PAULAPART: SEA OF AIR

and

The Norte Maar Mural Collaborations

"Sea of Air" explores the fluid world we inhabit with a sound installation of acoustic "Om Shell" sculptures and mural. Together the chorus of three spiraling sculptures sing immersive tunes of flowing water, soothing breath, and musical mystery to show how we are all connected through a sea of air. Paulapart's "Om Shells" are modeled after the curved forms of conch shells, gramophones, and the human cochlea for their special ability to amplify and resonate sound. "Om Shells" are both stand-alone sculptures and functional speaker cabinets that filter and expand any music, sound or noise that is played through the speakers inside the sculptures.
